The Funks

"Which church did you say you work with? A Free Church? Never heard of it. I am not religious and will admit that I have had some very disappointing experiences in life. I left the state church when I was 18 years old. I am unsure if there is a God or not. What did you say about peace in your lives because of Jesus?"

This is just a short part of a conversation that we had with a real estate agent, while viewing a town house for some of our new workers. Our hearts ached for this young man as he shared of his life, hurts and confusion. He said he had a Bible and we encouraged him to start reading. He was a man who was searching for peace in his life.
